Insights from Abroad

*A successful committee meeting of the Friends of the Institute was held in New York this spring. Chairman Rabbi David Lapp opened the meeting. Administrative Director Eric Loeb spoke about the activities of the organization in N.Y. Also attending was Institute Director Chaim Reshelbach who reported on new programs at the JIB in Jerusalem.

*In May of this year in Ottawa, Canada, the Canadian Friends of the Institute met, opened by Friends President Smuel Feig. Institute Director Chaim Reshelbach was present at the meeting, reporting on new programs at the Institute in Jerusalem. It was confirmed that the Canadian Friends will donate the furnishings of the new department in the Institute's school building.

*The A. Stern Library was dedicated at the Institute. A bequest was received from the Stern family of Melbourne, Australia, and it enables the Institute's library to broaden its activities, providing even more books and study materials on Judaism and religious subjects for the blind and partially sighted students.
