Insights from Abroad

- JIB Director Chaim Reshelbach, was recently hosted in a whirlwind 10-day visit to Australia, organized by Mrs. Flora Mehl, of Melbourne, President of Zohar, the Australian Friends of the Institute. Firsthand, he was able to see the many Australian friends that are so involved with helping the blind of Israel. He also visited the Royal Victorian Institute for the Blind in Melbourne.

- The Los Angeles Group for the Blind of Israel is going from strength to strength. Deserving of particular credit are Jeannette T. Cameron, Joseph B. Nadell, and Marcia Fink. The following poem was written and delivered by Nadell at their recent dinner:

*"We give to the blind children of Israel the opportunity to see light,
 By handing them the tools so necessary to lessen their plight.
 We provide them with your monies, Braille books, work tools and computers.
 Which are serviced by volunteer teachers and special tutors.
 We give them hope and the determination to live a meaningful life,
 Many of them actually become man and wife.
 Their ability to perform tasks would astound you,
 Believe it or not, with guidance their limitations are few.
 Jeannette and I have seen them perform,
 Music, work shops, extraordinary tasks are done beyond the norm.
 So be aware of the good feeling you get in giving to the blind,
 And be thankful that all senses are yours,
 Including touch, heart, soul, eyes and mind.*
